CIVIL SERVICE AND PATRONAGE

News' Ottawa Correspondent Reviews the Government Attitude on the Subject.

Ottawa.—There is a clamorous and quite numerous faction among the supporters of the King Government in Parliament which longs for the restoration of the spoils system. Its members crave for power to dismiss many officials appointed to the outside civil service since 1911 and to exercise political patronage in replacing them and in making promotions. These politicians, moreover, chafe angrily at the obstacles placed in the way of such proceedings by the Civil Service Act of 1918. Liberals who in their days of opposition professed abhorrence of political patronage are now prepared to ensure and even to embrace it. There has been in circulation during the present session a report that a large group of Liberal members of the House of Commons has served upon the government in the party caucus a demand for a revival of patronage in respect of appointments and promotions throughout the federal civil service outside the departments at Ottawa. Speeches in the House this session have tended to confirm that report and have given rise to the thought that, if incidental musters were provided for the drama enacted on the floor of the Chamber, their appropriate accompaniment would be the old come over air "Ain't it Funny What a Difference Just a Few Hours Make."

During the session of 1921, the House of Commons on several occasions discussed the merits and demerits of the Civil Service Act of 1918, which abolished patronage and conferred the power of appointment to both the inside and the outside services upon the Civil Service Commission. The subject was first raised when the late General Sir Sam Hughes introduced a motion calling frankly for a return to patronage exercised by Government supporters in Parliament and defeated Government candidates. Later a bill to amend the Civil Service Act was introduced by Hon. B. K. Spivack of Yorkmouth and Clara, N.S., and was referred to a special committee. As it emerged from the committee and was passed the bill took from the Civil Service Commission the duty of appointing manual labourers, postmasters, whose remuneration is paid, wholly or in part, by a percentage of the receipts of their offices and professional, scientific and technical officers. It also widened the scope of the section of the Civil Service Act dealing with cases to which the application of the statute would not be practicable. The motion as amended, read: "In any case where the commission decides that it is not practicable or in the interests of the public to apply this act to any position or positions, the commission may exclude such position or positions, in whole or in part, from the operation of this act." There were a few Liberals who in the debates of last session were willing to admit that the Civil Service Act of 1918 possibly had gone too far and that some petty offices in the outside service might well be filled on the recommendation of members of parliament. The majority of Liberal speakers, with the possible exception of Oneishore Targson, of Gloucester, N.B., however, opposed the Bill to amend the Civil Service Act on the ground that it contemplated a revival of political patronage and a reversal of the principle of the Act of 1918. Such was the attitude of the Hon. Ernest Lapointe, now Minister of Marine, of Hon. Charles Murphy, now Postmaster General, and of Hon. MacKenzie King, the Liberal leader. Mr. King asserted that the Bill would destroy the Civil Service Act of 1918 in very large part. "That," he asserted, "is a step entirely in the wrong direction."

Quite different has been the Liberal attitude presented to parliament during the present session. Although they attacked the legislation of last year as a step in the wrong direction, they now demand a much stronger step in the same direction and would make appointments, not only to the classes specified, but also to all positions in the outside service and also promotions in the service and also promotions in the service and also promotions in the service.

The method of appointment proposed through the Civil Service Commission, which was established by the Act of 1918, and which they last year defended, they now declare they have been designed "to keep Tory appointees in office." They have no word of commendation for the work of the Civil Service Commission. The two Ottawa members, Mr. Chevier and McElverin, called upon the government to take from the commission the authority to make any appointments which cannot be made on the basis of a written examination or a demonstration of skill by the candidates for the position. Hon. Charles Maclell, of Bonaventure, J. J. Hughes, of Kings, P.E.I., Oneishore Targson of Gloucester, N.S., and William Duff, of Lunenburg, N.S., all announced to the Commons that they are willing so far to sacrifice themselves as to assume responsibility for all recommendations for appointment to government offices in their constituencies. The last mentioned member asserts he does not favour "wholesale dismissals," but fairly grinds his teeth when he tells the House of the "Tory" office holders in Lunenburg whom he would like to "fire" and of his "humiliating position" in consequence of the law which forbids him to play the axe against the tree. He declared last year that "a civil service which is to afford the required efficiency should be promptly and vigorously to break up the organization for intimidation and murder which is designed to wreck the law and order. The co-operation of citizens in this was invited."

London, June 27.—The Evening News today says the British government sent a warning last Saturday to the Irish provisional government declaring that if the latter government's authority to restore order were not exercised the British government would have to take action. The British communication, according to the newspaper, requested the provisional government, "to act promptly and vigorously to break up the organization for intimidation and murder which is designed to wreck the law and order. The co-operation of citizens in this was invited."

Dublin, June 27.—Commandant

Henderson, director of the boycott against Belfast goods, has been arrested by the provisional government authorities and removed to Mount Joy prison, says an announcement issued by the headquarters of the army dissidents in the four courts. "Counter action has been taken by the four courts irregulars. Last evening they kidnapped Lieut.-Gen. The executive officers of the irregulars at the four courts telephoned the Beggan's Bush officials that Lieut.-Gen. OUR OTTAWA LETTER

Our Correspondent Predicts, Shake-up in the Cabinet Ere Long.

Ottawa—With the first session under the auspices of the King government at an end, rumor is rampant that there is to be a shake-up in the ministry before the House meets again.

The fact that such reports emanate from, and are discussed chiefly by, Liberal members, lends them a colour of probability that has been related in certain quarters. In the closing days of the budget debate, Mr. Fielding, Mr. Lomer Gouin came into open conflict. The latter declared, emphatically that the Liberal party stood for protection for Canadian industries. Two days later Mr. Fielding repudiated the statement of Justice on the floor of the House.

"The Liberal party never stood for protection," he said, "and it never will."

Sir Lomer does not relish such a rebuke and the cleavage which was manifest here between the two alleged strong men of the Government came in varying degrees throughout their followers in the House.

Mr. Fielding, it is claimed, has been convinced that public life adds no honours to those which are now his, and is ready to spend the twilight of life outside the swift moving current of public affairs—at least outside the cabinet.

The report to this effect is being held with enthusiasm by Sir Lomer's bloc, and it will not be surprising if he moves into the Finance portfolio, to make way for another Quebec member, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, as Minister of Justice. Sir Lomer's own motives for the Finance portfolio, Walter G. Mitchell of Montreal, is generally recognized as an impossibility. Sir Lomer is probably among those who now admit it. He tried Mr. Mitchell in Quebec and brought him to Ottawa to do what he was told to do. They fixed up a vigorous attack on Government ownership for him to deliver, and he made a hopeless blunder of it. All he succeeded in doing was wrecking his cabinet aspirations. He did not hurt public ownership as personified in the enforced ownership of National Railways an iota, but he scrambled Mr. Mitchell's reputation both as a politician and a parliamentary performer.

With Mr. Fielding it is said Hon. Jacques Bureau will turn over the Customs Department. Its duties are too exacting. Hon. D. E. MacKenzie and Hon. A. B. C. are scheduled for the bench when openings in the last occur. Then general scramble among the hopeful has commenced. At least one hundred private letters have been received by the members are convinced that they are of cabinet timber and no matter what changes are made they can only bring more discord into a ministry already notable for that quality.

One of the most noteworthy events of the session has been the formation of a concrete plan by the Liberal members to destroy the Civil Service Commission and secure a return to patronage unalloyed. The preliminary plans were first made this month. The real battle is to come next year. Every member has been charged to unearth every semblance of complaint that can be found against the Commission, to muster every pretext that can be found for attacking it. Next session a commission or parliamentary committee is to be demanded to probe it, preferably a parliamentary committee with a comfortable majority of Liberal members in its composition.

To appreciate the situation it must be recalled that these same voices have raised in violent denunciation of the Commission and its functions. Just one short year ago were equally violent in opposing a suggestion that even the most mental and casual appointments be withdrawn from the Commission. Today they want to get rid of it before another election.

Consistency, in the King party, is a jewel absent from the diadem when it interferes with political advantage.

SOVIET HAS TEN YEARS LIFE, REPORTS INVESTIGATOR

Destruction Will Come With Resumed Contact With Europe.

The Hague, June 27.—Associated Press has obtained permission to publish, a copy of a private report on Russia which will be distributed to the chiefs of delegations from non-Russian countries. This report embodies the views of a prominent and competent European observer, of liberal tendencies, who recently came from Russia after making a thorough investigation of the political conditions there.

The report contains 10 paragraphs, remarkable for their brevity. The name of the investigator is withheld by agreement. The "10 points" follow:

First—Barring unforeseen events, the Soviet regime is not near collapse. Her conditions are such that the Socialists, think they can continue in power for another ten years.

Second—The economic situation of Russia is complete and admitted by the Soviets. All power of purchase has disappeared.

Third—The Soviets are divided among themselves and internal struggles have begun.

Fourth—Hatred of the old regime is general among the people.

Fifth—Blockade and foreign military aggression have maintained the Soviets in power, but resumption of contact with Europe will destroy them and speed up their evolution in the direction of conservatism.

Sixth—The Soviet regime without hesitation that only the foreigner can reconstruct Russia.

Seventh—For the moment, the transient faction of the Soviets triumphs.

Eighth—Liftnov does not arrive with conciliatory intentions.

Ninth—The Russian Socialists would adhere immediately to Sovietism if they could obtain the right to vote, the secret vote and liberty of speech and the press.

Tenth—The Bolsheviks have developed military intervention have foreign very powerful nationalisms and xenophobia in Russia.

"The world," the report, must keep these facts in mind.

SENTIMENT AGAINST U. S. TARIFF BILL STRONG IN SENATE

Danger Seen in Curtailment of Trade Between Canada and U. S.

Washington, June 27.—Progress of the discussion of the tariff bill is serving to bring out more and more the sentiment against a strong senate opposition to building up an unduly high tariff between the United States and Canada. This senate opposition is unquestionably representative of a powerful public sentiment of the same nature.

Those who object to building high the tariff wall between this country and the United States are democrats, and some of the more moderate republicans. They declare danger exists in the high rates generally carried in the tariff bill.

The high tariff Republican leaders in the senate, it is true, are paying little heed to expostulations against high rates. They are bent on driving the tariff wall through substantially as it came from the finance committee.

Nevertheless, the importance of the protests now being made is growing stronger here all the time that the operation of the proposed new law will have a profound reaction and that the new law will be short-lived. In fact, many believe it will cause a political upheaval and defeat the Republican party, although that is a question which it is too early to answer.

The tariff debate has brought up repeatedly the question of competition with Canada on this issue, and that item on the bill. The objections to high rates have found occasions frequently to protest. Senator Jones, of New Mexico, recently, in objecting to high duties proposed by the finance committee on flour, and in answering allegations of serious Canadian competition, pointed out that at a matter of fact in Canada there was produced on the whole no more flour than was consumed. This led him to make the following general observations on Canadian importations and trade relations with Canada:

"We have heard a great deal here about imports from Canada and about duty on the Canadian commodities which are being brought into this country. I want to suggest, to senators that this is no time to build a tariff wall merely for the purpose of retaliation. That has cropped out in consideration of this bill a number of times. Even on limestone a high tariff is asked simply because on the western coast there is one firm which exports some limestone to the United States, and the reason given for the request of the duty was simply that the United States has a high duty on the importation of limestone there; and so with other commodities."

Canada reaches from one ocean to the other. Her conditions are such that very much as they are in the United States, but there is no time to build up a tariff wall for the sake of retaliation against what Canada has done. On the other hand, it seems to me that we should try to bring about a better feeling, a more reciprocal condition between this country and Canada."

PLANS COMPLETED FOR MID-SUMMER REUNION OF OLDS SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE GRADUATES

July 21st promises to be a big day in Olds, when ex-students of the School of Agriculture at that point, arriving from all corners of Alberta, as well as many from neighboring provinces, will meet for their second annual mid-summer reunion. A very large attendance is predicted.

The committee in charge of arranging the reunion are rapidly completing their work. It is altogether likely that the Hon. George Headley, Minister of agriculture, and Mr. H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister, will speak at the business meeting, which commences at 1:00 p.m. sharp. The year's school judging competition, which always evokes enthusiasm, finds a place on the afternoon program, and does also the review of experimental work at present being conducted at the school. The evening entertainment will take the form of a social and dance.

All ex-students are urged to be present, and to advise the Secretary, O.S.A.A., Olds, immediately of their tendencies in order that proper arrangements can be made to accommodate all. A cordial invitation is extended to friends of ex-students, prospective students and others interested.

VALUE OF CHEESE AS A FOOD

Its Consumption Three Times More Per Capita in Britain Than in Canada.

A companion pamphlet to Miss Helen G. Campbell's "Why and How to Use Milk" has been published by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. This pamphlet is entitled "Why and How to Use Cheese." Besides giving a history of cheese making and of the different kinds of cheese, of which it will surprise most people to learn there are some 250, upwards of three dozen varieties are described in which cheese can be used to make savory and nutritious dishes.

All cheese making in Canada was carried on as a farm industry until 1884, when the first factory came into existence in Oxford county, Ontario. In the following year a factory was established in Missisquoi county, Quebec. The progress of factory establishment was so rapid that in a few years the system was generally adopted, and farm-made cheese became a rarity. While every one of the nine provinces has its cheese factories, about 97 percent of the production has to be credited to Ontario and Quebec. Incidentally it might be mentioned that the total value of the cheese made in this country runs up to between fifty and sixty million dollars per annum, and the quantity totals up to around a hundred and fifty million pounds, sometimes over and sometimes under. The variation in production is considerable, as will be understood when it is stated that in 1914 it was 169,478,340 lbs., and in 1920 nearly twenty million pounds less.

In Canadian factories the manufacture of cheese is mostly confined to early to answer Cheddar, but some the Stilton is turned out on the Dominion Experimental Farm at Agassiz, B.C., and the Trappist makes the Oka Agricultural Institute in Quebec make what is known as Oka cheese, another form of cheese made in this country is Cottage cheese, which is made in many households from sour milk without the advantage of cream in the diet, tells how it can be kept, and suggests that Canadians would be well advised to use more of it than they do. This suggestion gains force from the fact that the consumption of cheese in Britain is about four times per capita more than it is in this country.

GOVERNMENT SALE OF LIQUOR FAILS TO CONTROL

Two years ago the Legislature of British Columbia refused the offer of British Columbia the opportunity of voting for the exclusion of imported liquor, and the sale of liquor by the government. This plan is identical with the system now advocated by the government of Ontario. It was specifically proposed by the Moderation League in 1919, and was voted for government rate, and the law came into force over one year ago. The Moderation League has not asked whether the new system makes for moderation. Does it really control? Does it eliminate bootlegging?

Here are the returns. Sales of liquor in B.C. under the Prohibition Act amounted to $14,000 in September, 1920, rising to $18,000 in July, 1921. The sale in Government Liquor Stores in the third quarter of last year averaged $638,300 per month. B.C. Vancouver is the largest city in the year sales had risen to $223,305 per month. These figures fall to show the Moderation League and reveal the reason the Moderation League is so earnestly advocating Government Sale.

Has bootlegging diminished? Notwithstanding increased activity and large profits without the sale of liquor, the Moderation League has not asked whether the new system makes for moderation. Does it really control? Does it eliminate bootlegging?

Has the return of facilities for drinking diminished drug addiction? The Moderation League has not asked whether the new system makes for moderation. Does it really control? Does it eliminate bootlegging?

Has the return of facilities for drinking diminished drug addiction? The Moderation League has not asked whether the new system makes for moderation. Does it really control? Does it eliminate bootlegging?

"FATTY" ARBUCKLE JUST A HANGER-ON

Los Angeles—"Fatty" Arbuckle wants to come back. Banned from the films as the result of an indictment outburst of public feeling following the death of Virginia Rappe, Arbuckle, once wealthy, has lost his fortune, his home and $25,000 automobile.

"Fatty" plans an appeal to "censor" Will Hays for reinstatement in the only game for which he is qualified. Employees of the United Studios, who knew Arbuckle when he waddled across the cinema lots, monarch of all he surveyed, day the comedian has become a pitiful hanger-on. He has nothing to do. He walks about the studio, looks on at the filming of comedies in which he was wont to star, and since his arrest has not made a penny, save for one scenario which he wrote for Buster Keaton.

Arbuckle's wife, Mina Dufresne, who came back to him during his trial, after the death of Virginia Rappe, is not with him. She is in New York, but Arbuckle expects her to return soon.

"Fatty" believes he could win back his place as premier fat comedian of the screen if permitted to work.

THE HIGH SCHOOL

Red Deer is face to face with a serious High School problem.
It would be folly for the citizens to shut their eyes to the situation like the ostrich that hides its head in the sand till it is overtaken by disaster.

A hundred and a half of Red Deer's brightest and best young people are receiving their secondary education in a building that is inadequate, un-sanitary and unsafe. It is inadequate because it cannot accommodate all the grades at the present time, and the efficiency of the high school system is jeopardized by the constant trailing to and fro from the one building to the other: part of the work has to be taken up in the Assembly Hall of the Central School on account of the overflow conditions.
The building is unsatisfactory because it is lacking even the most ordinary toilet facilities or an adequate system of ventilation. The building is unsafe because it is old and dilapidated; some day it must crumble as the result of the natural processes of decay, and it is a veritable bomb waiting to explode. Heaven grant that it may not be flooded with that wealth of human life if such a disaster should come.

The electors will raise their hands in holy horror at the suggestion that a new High School should be built with the least possible delay. The overriding argument of the expense will be paraded as the slightest objection to such a scheme. But let us reason together and see if the suggestion is not much more feasible than it appears to be on the surface.
The matter was seriously discussed at the meeting of the School Board on Monday evening and deserves the earnest consideration of all public bodies. Incidentally, the question has been made that the Board of Trade would be well advised to devote its attention to the construction of Red Deer as the educational centre of Central Alberta rather than in the doubtful effort of making it a manufacturing centre, which it cannot become in the very near future.

To meet the present and prospective needs it would be necessary to build a twelve-room High School.
This past year there have been two Grade IX, one Grade X, one Grade XI, and one Grade XII, making five rooms in all. The Principal is satisfied that it will be necessary to have two Grade X, two Grade XI, and two Grade XII, making six rooms in all. The probability is that it will be necessary to have two Grade XI, two Grade XII, and two Grade XIII, making eight rooms in all. The twelve room school should, however, be sufficient to fill the requirements for several years to come.

In the meantime, at least, a few of the rooms would be available for Public School work, making it possible for the Board to drop the Parish Hall as soon as the present lease expires in December, 1924. For rent and maintenance, the Parish Hall is costing an excessive amount per pupil at the present time, as well as being quite unsatisfactory. Speaking of cost of operation, it is also well to bear in mind that the cost of heating the High School is also much more than it would be if the building were modern in construction and heating arrangements.

The School Board will be well advised to prepare an exhaustive statement showing what the annual interest and debenture charges would amount to on a new High School building, also showing what economies could be effected by the elimination of the Parish Hall as a school and the waste in operating the present High School building. Let the ratepayers have the information for their perusal and as a basis for the further discussion of the situation.
If the proposal to build is feasible, the expenditure of, say, $100,000 will in the next couple of years in this way would help very materially to improve business conditions within the city. The idea of excluding outside pupils attending the school, although as best we can with the presented accommodation for purely residential purposes, is not in the best interests of the city.

Another problem that the School Board must have before it is the regulation requiring all High Schools to be in a position to give physical instruction by the fall of 1922. The question of providing a gymnasium comes in here. The city needs a gymnasium in the worst possible way anyhow, and possibly some move may develop in this connection in the near future.

In the meantime, a frank and free discussion of the High School problem is necessary and advisable. The columns of The News are open for that purpose.

BOOST FOR THE FAIR

The near approach of the time, for the Red Deer Fair makes it incumbent upon the citizens as a whole to boost for Red Deer's annual summer community event. The Agricultural Fair is something more than a private enterprise; it is a public affair that occupies a great deal of valuable time on the part of the Directorate without any hope whatever of any private emolument and with over-present possibility of a rather serious loss.

The Fair has been one of Red Deer's most valuable publicity agencies in the past, and the local event has gained much more than local reputation among stockmen in particular and exhibitors in general. Its future should not be jeopardized by any lack of community co-operation.
Even though there are features in connection with the Fair that do not appeal to all the people, that should not turn well meaning people into chronic jokers. The regeneration of the Fair, if such is necessary, can be brought about from the inside far more effectively than it can by almost criticism from the outside.

Boost for the Fair, then, your friends to spend the week with you and take in all the big attractions.
Tell your acquaintances about the superior features. Open your homes for the accommodation of the visitors to our city who want to see the fair the next day and who want to patronize our business places while they are in town. Decorate your places of business and your homes for the occasion. It is our summer festival. Tell the world about it.
Boost for the Fair.

THE MOSLEM PROBLEM

Why has Armenia been given back to the unworkable Turkey? Why has the Government of India, a British dominion, requested the British Government to grant several far-reaching concessions to Turkey? Why did the publication of Lord Reading's message almost destroy the Lloyd George Government and result in Mr. Montague's resignation from the Cabinet?
These questions have been asked recently by readers of The Sentinel, and to them all there is only one answer: British statesmen, politicians and diplomats, have been endeavoring by various means to conciliate the Moslems or Mohammedans. There are over 100 millions of whom are within the British Empire. The Sultan of Turkey is the head of the Moslem medina religion. Whether in Turkey, India or Egypt, devout Mohammedans regard the Sultan of Turkey, no matter what sort of a character he may be, as at least their spiritual, if not their temporal, leader.

It is not a question of principle, but a matter of British imperial policy or political expediency, that has on this and former occasions saved the unworkable Turk from just punishment for his multitude of crimes. Turkey should have been broken up and destroyed long ago for the wholesale massacre of the Armenians (Christians) because they were protesting against the Moslem and for numerous other outrages. If her former wickedness did not provide a sufficient reason for the disruption of the country, it is certain that Turkey as a nation should have ended with the last genocide. But the British statesmen are trying to placate them by granting concessions to Turkey. After Turkish bondage, they are again sacrificed and placed under the present, instead of the cross, once more, in the hope of making the Moslem agitators in India loyal to the British Empire. "Conciliate your enemies and let your friends go to Halifax" seems to express the new policy of the British Government towards both Ireland and India.

The concessions to Turkey in the Sèvres treaty did not satisfy the Indian Moslems. Instead of bringing peace to India, the apparent weakness of the British Government only increased the agitation. The sensational dispatch sent from Delhi on March 7, by Lord Reading, the Secretary of State, on behalf of the Government of India, almost summoned the British Government (1) to evacuate Constantinople; (2) to assent to the sovereignty of the Sultan over the Holy Places; and (3) to restore to the Turks not only Syria, but Liban, Thrace, including Adrianople.

These demands could only be granted to Turkey, an enemy in the war, at the expense of Christians and Jews and has domination status, and it is said had a right to ask for amendments to the Sèvres treaty. The sensation was caused by Mr. Montague, British Secretary of State, who published the dispatch without the consent of the British Cabinet. Then followed the Cabinet crisis and Mr. Montague's resignation.

The peculiar policy of Britain towards Turkey, whether that policy is right or wrong, can be understood only after reading a statement on the situation by Sir John Rees, M.P., who states India well. "Mohammedanism is a religion and not a nation," he points out. "They are all united and it is useless argue with them" on such subjects as those raised in the dispatch from Delhi. Sir John continues:

"They know, as we hardly seem to know, that they are upwards of 100 millions of 400 millions in the British Empire, and more numerous than its Christian subjects, just as they are far more united, and they probably not unaware of the strength arising from the fact that everyone of the 100 millions is a Moslem. Before everything else, is proud because of its measure of it, and conducts his religious observances at the proper seasons, regardless of place or of any other consideration.

The policy of the famous telegram may not be capable of execution in every point, its publication may not have been regular, but it gives expression to a feeling deeply and almost universally held among Mohammedans, and we shall do well to take to heart the fact that a quarter of our fellow-subjects expect us to prefer Mohammedanism to Greeks, Armenians, Hebrews, Parthians, Elamites, and miscellaneous dwellers in Mesopotamia."

M.D. OF GOLDEN WEST

The fourth regular meeting of the Council of the Municipal District of Golden West, No. 374, was held in the Municipal office at Sylvan Lake on ment of Agriculture regarding the control of grasshoppers on section 26, and from the Chief Fire Guardian regarding precautions for the prevention of fires.

The General Manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada wrote regarding the closing up of the Bonaville branch, and stated that if prospects warranted the branch would be re-opened at a future date.

accounts paid be published. Pay roll particulars regarding same. The Secretary was instructed with regard to reply.

Hugh Swain appealed from Wild Land tax assessment for the year 1922 on the ground of improvement and pasturing of cattle. Moved by Rogers that the Wild Land assessment on the northeast of section 26 and southeast of section 10-57-3-5, be cancelled for the year 1922. Motion carried.

G. W. Smith, M.P., and J. A. Answorth, Government Inspector of Roads, attended the meeting and both gen-the Government appropriation for this Municipality. The total amount appropriated for M.D. 374 was $485, to be expended as far as possible on main or

M.D. OF ARTHUR

At the meeting of the Council of the M.D. of Arthur, No. 340, at Innisfail on June 10, Mr. E. Alnoworth was to be asked to use his influence to have the $1,200 Government grant expended on the road east of Innisfail without the grant being supplemented by the M.D.
In the event of Mr. Alnoworth not being able to get the Department to grant this request, that each Councillor get his share, $200, to be expended subject to Mr. Alnoworth's approval. Grants were given to the following agricultural societies: Innisfail $60, Milnerton $60, Bowden $30. The secretary was instructed to write Mr. D. Cameron and Mr. N. S. Smith re former secretary's shortage, and they be asked to take up the matter with Minister Reid and copies of U.P.A. Local No. 452 resolution be sent them as well. The Council felt that the promise of Mr.
Reid to Reeve J. H. McArthur have not been carried out. D. A. McCannell, C.A., was appointed auditor for the year 1922. The Secretary-Treasurer's action was endorsed in paying day-man, freight, expenses, etc., and to continue to do so until order is resolved. Moved by Councillor Parsons that Sawyer-Massey bill of $29.10 be tabled. Carried. All bills pertaining to the grasshopper campaign will be closed up of the Bonaville branch, and Treasurer were empowered to borrow up to $5,000 at the Canadian Bank of

FIFTH FORTNIGHTLY CROP REPORT

Issued by Publicity Commissioner, Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Saturday, July 1, 1922.
Rains which have fallen fairly generally over the province during the past few days have materially improved the situation with respect to crop conditions, and have saved the grain from actual drought in several districts. The feeling in the province at this date is one of optimism and the indications are for the harvesting of a very fair crop.
In some districts prior to these rains the grain had begun to burn, and in one or two sections farmers were actually plowing up crops. The rains of June 28 and 29, however, brought needed moisture.
Precipitation during these rains totalled from one-third to an inch and one-half. The rains have been accompanied by cool weather.

Wheat is appearing in the shot blade in some districts, and generally speaking this grain will be short draw. Other grains are in fairly good shape. From 30 to 50 per cent. of the rye is being cut for feed, owing to the probability of a shortage in hay crops, and the likelihood of a short price for this grain in the fall. Alfalfa is being cut in the south and is showing fairly heavy yields.
The grasshopper menace is practically under control in all districts and the loss will be very light from this cause, although farmers are urged to continue their efforts for the next few weeks.
South-western areas—This district from Calgary south to Lethbridge and the boundary and westward, have been favored with further satisfactory rains, and generally speaking over these areas the crop conditions are very encouraging.
Rye stands from three to four feet, and much of it is being cut for feed. Wheat is shooting out at from 14 to 18 inches, oats and barley are up to 12 and 14 inches.
Grasshoppers are under control, but still appearing in great numbers on land not yet cultivated.

South-eastern areas—Recent rains from Calgary and Lethbridge eastward and in the Medicine Hat district have been fairly heavy and have brought relief to many sections, although some localities still report dry conditions. Points along the main line of the C.P.R. from Calgary eastward report good rains during the past few days, with conditions much improved. Grain previously had shown signs of burning in some sections, and in some cases late sown crop had shown poor germination. This stuff, however, will be much helped by the late rains, although the yields will be only fair.
Central areas—Dry conditions reported in many sections over the central areas have been alleviated by the late rains. From Calgary to Red Deer, in localities where the grain had commenced to suffer from drought, conditions are somewhat better. Olds district, which has had drier conditions than usual, reports half an inch of rain in the past two days. Along the Goose Lake line and east of Red Deer and Camrose to the boundary of the province, prospects are fairly satisfactory and an average crop is expected, although the recent rains have not been as heavy in these districts as in others. Hay crops will be light, owing to the very late start and dry conditions which have prevailed. Fall rye is also light in the central areas, no serious damage from hail is reported.
Northern areas—Rains in these areas, too, have improved the situation considerably, although lack of moisture during the earlier growing period seriously retarded crops in some localities. Heavy rains have been fairly general over these districts in the past few days, and the indications are that grain yields will average up fairly well. Wheat will be short in straw, however. Hay crops are light, but with continued moisture will make an average crop. Grasshoppers have not offered any serious menace in the northern districts. Farmers in northern areas are advised to put up all the hay possible.
Hail—Several districts in the province report hail storms, which have done damage within a limited area. Generally speaking there has been no extensive damage from this cause.

SPECIAL APPEAL FOR HOSPITAL
The Hospital Ladies' Aid are making a special request through the columns of the press to the people of the surrounding districts for donations of strictly fresh eggs to pack for winter use for the Memorial Hospital. The same can be left at the Hopworth creamery. The members of the Ladies' Aid will look after the packing. Donations will be received from now to the end of July.

The inspection will take place at 10 a.m. on Friday, and the Exhibition will be free to the boys all day long.
The party will return Saturday morning. There will be somebody in charge of the boys both ways on the train and during their stay there.
